

GOVERNMENT STATISTICS ON UNEMPLOYMENT OUT

TEXAS VOTING TODAY; ISSUE IS FERGUSONS

Bitter Campaigns for Gubernatorial Nomination Complete

(BULLETIN) Dallas, Texas, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Early returns in the Texas Democratic gubernatorial primary today gave Ross Sterling, Houston publisher, a lead of more than 2 to 1 over Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, former Governor.

The vote from 59 precincts out of 135 in Sterling's home county, Harris, gave the publisher 2080 and Mrs. Ferguson 1132.

Fair weather over the state insured a heavy vote in both rural and urban districts.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 23.—(UP)—Nine hundred thousand voters will decide today between Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, championed by her husband "Farmer Jim" as the "Candidate of the Common People," and Ross S. Sterling, Houston millionaire publisher, in the run-off of the Democratic gubernatorial primary election.

Both sides expressed confidence in election. Sterling, in a speech last night at Galveston, forecast his majority at no less than 100,000.

Mrs. Ferguson, who stumped the state thoroughly for his wife, said her majority would be more than 250,000.

Support has been thrown to both candidates in the bitter campaign fight, and political mass meetings for each were held in almost every city, town and village in the state.

The Sterling cause was strongly upheld by Gov. Dan Moody, who was Attorney General during Mrs. Ferguson's former administration and overwhelmingly defeated her for a second term. Moody refused to run against Sterling after he had appointed him chairman of the State Highway Commission.

The Ferguson campers centered their campaign attack on the "big business" methods of the Houston candidate. They charged he has "lost the common touch" during his years as a millionaire.

Mrs. Ferguson promised duplication of her former administration announcing her intention of liberating at least 2,000 convicts from the state penitentiary. She waged a strong campaign for prohibition and economy in state operation.

The business training decried by the Ferguson camp was offered by Sterling as a reason for his election. He rose from the ranks of a freight-boiler helper and village merchant to owner of a large and powerful newspaper, and that experience, he said, would enable him to run the Governor's office more efficiently.

Strongest of the Sterling planks was a proposal for a $350,000,000 highway bond issue. He had the support of the press, the metropolitan and capitalist element, and eight of the nine candidates defeated in the initial primary.

Five other state offices were to be filled in today's elections. The swashbuckling duel of personalities between R. L. Bobbitt, incumbent, and James V. Alford of Wichita Falls for the Attorney Generalship, was the only featured race in the lot, however. State Senators Edgar Witt of Waco and Sterling B. Strong of Dallas sought the office of Lieutenant Governor.

COMPLETE STORY OF ANDREE DEATH MAY BE REVEALED

he Explorer's Diary Was Found With Body In Arctic Wastes

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The long mystery of their fate cleared, the bodies of three men who 33 years ago tried to fly across the North Pole in a balloon today were on the way home to such posthumous honors as their nation and the world may bestow.

The bodies of Salomon August Andre, Swedish explorer, and his two companions, Knut Frankel and Nils Strindberg, were found August 8 on Hviteon (White Island) by a Norwegian Arctic expedition headed by Dr. S. Horn.

The small sailing vessel Brattvaag, with their bodies, together with relics of their last camp on the ice, is expected to reach Tromsø, northern Norwegian port, about September 10.

Two books aboard the Brattvaag are expected here to tell the complete story of the first attempt to cross the pole by air, what brought the balloon down, and of those long days of starvation thereafter when death claimed first one of the trio, then a second, and finally the third.

One of these books is the balloon's log.

One Andree's Diary

The second of the books is the personal diary of Andree. Both log and diary were frozen stiff with ice. No attempts were made to open them.

Other relics of the expedition aboard the Brattvaag include two sledges, one boat, a harpoon, cooking apparatus and other utensils.

Two of the bodies, including that of Andree, were perfectly preserved; the third, which had been partially melted, had deteriorated.

There were indications that the three men had lived for some time after being forced down on the ice. They had food enough aboard the balloon for six months.

Dr. Horn's expedition landed near the camp site August 6, and discovered the remains two days later. They built a cairn to mark the spot before leaving it.

Information as to the discovery, which solved one of the long impetrable mysteries of the Polar world, was brought from the north by the zealer Terningen.

German Fliers In Ivigut, Greenland

Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, German aviator, and three companions today were at Ivigut, Greenland, presumably on their way to the United States, after a flight from Reykjavik, Iceland.

Greenland authorities reported the fliers' arrival there yesterday afternoon after several hours of mystery as to their course after they left Reykjavik.

The four airmen have the same Dornier Wal flying boat that brought Roald Amundsen and his companions back from their unsuccessful attempt to reach the North Pole in 1925. Besides von Gronau, they are Franz Hack, mechanic; Herr Albrecht, wireless operator; and an aviation student named Zimmer.

Considerable mystery has surrounded the flight from the start.

Captain von Gronau is chief of the training school for commercial airplane pilots at Warnemuende, Germany.

TWO COMMUNIST SPEAKERS SHOT DEAD LAST EVE

Heckler Used Gun As They Threatened to Throw Him Out

Pittsburgh, Aug. 23.—(UP)—A heckler shot and killed two Communist speakers at Avella, Pa., last night when they threatened him for his interference.

The speakers, George Harkoff, 35, and Steve Mina, 40, were addressing about 150 persons at a carnival when their assailant suddenly drew a revolver and fired three bullets into their bodies.

The assassin, who was said by police to be an Italian named Pietro Petrelli, alias Petrelli, escaped during the excitement. Police later visited his rooms and found a quantity of literature and some dynamite.

Soldering irons and other tools were found with the explosive.

Frank Mucci, 39, a miner, told Detective W. B. Dinsmore he saw Petrelli shoot the two men after they tried to chase the heckler from the field.

Mrs. Harkoff had addressed the meeting, Mucci said, when he saw her in argument with Petrelli.

"If you break up this meeting, we will break you," Mrs. Harkoff told Petrelli, Mucci declared. Mina advanced swinging a large club at Petrelli and the heckler shot him, according to Mucci. He turned on Harkoff when the latter started after him then, fired twice and Harkoff fell, Mucci said.

Petrelli had a reputation as an opponent of Communism and had voiced and acted his opposition at other meetings.

ENGINEERS IN HOOVER'S CAMP FOR CONFERENCE

Increased Employment On Waterways Considered Today

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

Orange, Va., Aug. 23.—(UP)—President Hoover is devoting another week ends at his mountain camp on the Rapidan to consideration of drought relief, this time in connection with the additional unemployment problem created by the long dry spell.

The President arose early to begin a series of conferences with Army Engineers in an effort to map out a plan to accelerate the Mississippi flood control building program as an aid to employment in states hit by the drought.

Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, Chief of Army Engineers, and Col. George R. Spalding, Army Engineer in charge of the upper Mississippi and Illinois river projects, are guests at the camp, who are expected to take a leading part in the discussion.

Hanford MacNider, new Minister to Canada, also was a guest, and it was considered probable that he would discuss with Mr. Hoover the problem confronting him in reopening negotiations with the new Canadian government to revive St. Lawrence waterway development.

Although inclusion of Spalding in the conference indicates the whole field of inland waterways may be explored for employment possibilities, the principal flood control project to be considered today is understood to be creation of a large reservoir in North Dakota to hold waters of the Missouri river.

This proposal, suggested to Mr. Hoover recently by Rep. Sinclair, N. D., is said to have found favor with Hurley, who recently visited the region.

Half a dozen or more states, which suffered from the 1927 Mississippi flood have been hard hit by the drought and have appealed for early flood control action to provide employment for farmers near their homes.

New Detour Marked On State Route 89

On State Route No. 89 considerable construction is in progress. The contractor is paving the gaps on the hills at the I. C. overhead and the C. & N. W. cut-off. One way traffic is being maintained at these points. Further south where several miles of pavement is being laid to complete the route north of Ohio, the contractor's grading machinery is tearing up the last three miles of the gap preparatory to laying the pavement. As the old detour through Walton came in on this unfinished portion it has been necessary to discontinue the detour and the department has marked a new detour along the old Dad Joe Trail about two miles west of the route. This detour is 12 miles long and mostly earth and through traffic to Princeton is advised to take Route No. 2 through Amboy and Mendota following Route No. 18 from Mendota to Princeton.

ADMIRAL BYRD IS SEEKING NEW TYPE OF PLANES

Wants Ship With Motors In Wings For Next Adventure

BY SAM KNOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Curtiss-Wright Airport, Chicago, Aug. 23.—(UP)—This vast airport became today the center of the aviation world as thousands of persons gathered to witness the start of the tenth annual National Air Races, the first "Olympiad of the air."

Notables of land, air and sea were here and hundreds of airplanes, large and small, single and multi-motored, stood about the field or roared overhead in flights preliminary to the official opening at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Race officials were confident the presence of such an array of aircraft and American and foreign notables would attract a crowd of 40,000 persons, the number the specially built grandstands will seat. The weather was clear and warm.

The day's activities included: Inaugural ceremonies, parade, bands, etc.

Arrival of two of seven national air derbies.

First of 50 racing events to be held during the 10 day meet.

Daring tactical exhibitions and maneuvers by Army, Navy and Marine squadrons, with bursting of balloons.

Flight of Jimmy Doolittle in a speed "mystery ship."

Hoover Sent Message
Doolittle arrived from Washington, carrying the personal well wishes of President Hoover for the success of the great "Olympiad."

The message was delivered last night at a banquet in honor of Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd and attended by 1,500 persons.

Admiral Byrd was presented a life membership in the National Aeronautical Association.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Dr. Eckener and Orville Wright are among the select few who have been thus honored.

In an address broadcast throughout the nation, Byrd predicted the doom of the three engined airplane unless great improvements are made immediately and hinted he was planning some new adventure.

"I wish to announce," he said, "that I am in the market for the first airplane built that will fold up its feet like a bird and carry its engine in its wings. Such a plane can and will be built. I have a very definite use for it."

He paused while the assemblage grasped the importance of his announcement, then added, smiling: "I am not, however, saying just where I am going to use it."

GERMAN ACE CRASHED

Curtis Wright Airport, Chicago, Aug. 23.—(UP)—Fritz Loose, famous German ace, crashed in his big Junkers airplane today as the tenth annual air races, the "Olympiad of the Air," opened.

Loose crashed as he attempted to land his big plane at the north end of the field. He was uninjured. The motor failed and the plane fluttered and fell about 20 feet. The undercarriage was torn away but the plane otherwise was not damaged.

Loose, one of the many fliers who came from abroad to lend an international note to the air spectacle, had been having trouble with the (Continued on page 2).

Pick Wrong House: Cigars Are Ordered

Some few weeks ago it is said, Dan Curran, veteran brick layer and mason of this city, and Ex-supervisor John Drew and Will Curran journeyed to the north side one morning and entering a home or advancing to the back door, told the lady of the house who was busy washing clothes that they were going to work on the chimney, and the lady, who by the way, was Mrs. George Fruin, consented thinking her husband had sent the workmen. They briskly set to work and at noon day had the chimney, which runs along the outside of the house, half torn down when the man of the house, appearing on the scene and asked them what they were doing. When informed he stated he had not hired anyone to do this work, as it was not needed, and on investigation it was found that the masons had picked the wrong house to work on; that their legitimate prey, or house was a block farther down the street where they had been patiently awaited. Cigars were purchased, also brick, and the story was hushed up (?) but the yarn was too good to keep and leaked out.

5.2 PCT. WORKERS OF NATION IDLE, CENSUS FIGURES

2,508,151 Unemployed On April 1st: Michigan Has Most

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, Aug. 23.—(UP)—The nation's unemployed numbered 2,508,151 when the census was taken in April, the Census Bureau announced today.

This was 2 per cent of the country's total population and 5.2 per cent of the estimated number of workers.

The figure includes only those without jobs, able to work and seeking employment at the time the census was taken. It does not include several other classes, such as those with jobs who were laid off without pay.

The count of unemployed was the first undertaken in this country, and provides a basis for estimating the extent of hardship resulting from business depression.

Previous unofficial unemployed estimates had ranged from 3,000,000 to 6,000,000, and Republican leaders were quick to take advantage of the fact the census showed a smaller number than administration critics had charged.

"We at last have an accurate statement of this question," Senator Hatfield, Rep., W. Va., declared in a statement. "It brings into high light the malevolent character of the statements made by Democratic Senators and Democratic leaders last April, through John Raskob's Democratic propaganda bureau, that there were five or six million unemployed."

Michigan Leads

Unemployment figures for each state and the District of Columbia showed Michigan had the highest percentage of unemployed, 160,506 out of 4,842,280 inhabitants, or 3.3 per cent.

United Press computations also revealed a higher percentage of would-be workers were out of work in Michigan than in any other state, 8.2 per cent.

South Dakota and Mississippi had the lowest percentage of unemployed, 0.5 per cent of their total population. Only 1.3 per cent of Mississippi citizens were out of jobs and 1.5 per cent of South Dakota's.

New York had the greatest number of unemployed, 364,617 or 2.9 per cent of the total population. This represented 6.6 per cent of the workers.

Six other groups are to be added to the list of unemployed. They include persons having jobs but laid off; unemployed persons unable to work; persons having jobs but idle because of sickness or disability; persons out of work and not looking for it; persons having jobs but voluntarily without pay; and persons having jobs and drawing pay, though not at work.

The first of these is particularly important, the bureau pointed out, because it will include some who are in "very much the same economic position as the jobless announced today."

Ferris Hinds of this city, who has been employed the past several months on the Steamship "Diamond C" between Seattle, Wash., and Alaskan ports, has written his father, S. M. Navy visited Seattle recently and Ferris had the pleasure of visiting two of his cousins aboard the battleships California and New Mexico.

His letter bore the San Francisco postmark and in it he stated that he was spending a few days in the "Golden Gate" city and expected to return to Seattle in a few days. He made the trip from Seattle to San Francisco by boat and says that his first glimpse of the "Golden Gate" was a thrilling moment for him.

THOROUGHbred

He was a thoroughbred, that horse. He stretched his head out for the bit. Quivering in every limb. Its restraint. Harassed him and chafed his restless soul. Breaking his hope in dull monotony. He was anxious for the saddle and the rein. Exercise they meant to him, and action, speed. The one great end of his existence.

Into the saddle sprang the rider. "Let him go!" He pawed the air a moment. Was he free?

A few mighty leaps to prove it. Then, he bounded to the race. With the mettle of his noble line of sires.

Stretched his limbs in rhythmic motion. Vital, joyous, fearless, free! For him, now, no rest or turning back.

It was speed he craved, and action! Indeed a thoroughbred, that horse.

The author gave his age as 43, and that if Miss Sarah Haardt, his fiancée as 32. Announcement of the couple's engagement brought down on Mencken a storm of publicity, most of which was tinged with sarcasm, in view of Mencken's long boasted bachelorhood.

Although previous announcements were to the effect the couple would be married at Miss Haardt's home in Montgomery, Ala., Wolf said Mencken nodded affirmatively when he was warned the license would not be legal outside of Baltimore and asked him if he intended being married in the city.

"He mumbled and blushed like any other young fellow," Wolf added.

Silhouette Wavers While Paris Hunts Recipe For Chic

By BARBARA BEAUFORT.
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris.—(AP)—Dressmakers do not agree on the subjects of silhouettes for the coming season.

In fact the 1930-31 recipe for chic begins something like mammy's recipe for fried chicken. First catch your silhouette.

One set of stylenmakers, a minority group of first class houses, moves belts upward and sponsors skirts that flare in easy stages from raised waistline to hamline.

The other uses the snugly fitted lines of last season varied with tiers, tunic and peplums.

The higher waistlines and slightly gathered skirts are newer, but the old line is easier to wear.

Undoubtedly the trend of belts at all the important dress houses is to move upward, however, slowly.

At one of the most important houses of all, where hemlines dip in back and lift in front for formal wear, belts follow the same movement. They have mounted slightly in front and remained at the same level in back.

Changed styles in sleeves also influence fashionable outlines. All the dressmakers are experimenting with new sleeves.

The tendency is to enlarge them above or below the elbow and then fit them smoothly into armholes.

Cap-sleeves, favorites for youthful styles and in the evening many of the newest models have off-shoulder ruffles or dropped collars.

Have You Heard?

There is a vogue for shells again. A couple of them, polished to shine beautifully, are a new and adequate mantle decoration.

But the newest use for them is as flower containers. For this purpose, the big nautilus shells are beautiful. These, thoroughly decorated, make perfect vases for posies. Stand the shells in a wire frame to hold them erect. For the dinner table or for house decoration, they are lovely.

WHY TAKE THE JOY OUT OF LIFE?

Duchess of York Has New Daughter; Born in Glamis Castle

Glamis, Scotland, Aug. 22—(UP)—A Princess was born to the Duchess of York last night as the tumult of storm rumbled over the Scottish moorland and a driving rain whipped against the weatherworn walls of Glamis Castle.

The Duchess and her second daughter, who is fourth in line of succession to the British throne, were reported progressing satisfactorily today. The Princess probably will be named Margaret, a name high in the records of Scottish history and, because of its familiarity in the Strathmore family, a favorite with the Duchess.

An official bulletin issued at 10:30 A. M. today said:

"The Duchess of York had a restful night and continues to make very satisfactory progress. The infant Princess is doing fine."

Church bells throughout the neighborhood of Glamis sounded the rejoicing of the people at midnight. Warships in all ports were ordered to fire a salute today and bells will be rung throughout the country prior to the traditional lighting of beacons—delayed last night by a rain—on Hunters Hill near the birthplace of the Princess.

The birth of the Princess in the right wing of ancient Glamis Castle, where it is said the "Ghost of Glamis" walks, was more joyously received because of some anxiety caused by recent lack of official word from the castle. Although the nation had naturally hoped for a son, the news of satisfactory progress of the new granddaughter of the King and Queen was greeted with happiness.

The tiny village postoffice was swamped with congratulatory messages today, necessitating the use of special motorcycle messengers to carry them to Glamis Castle.

Among the first messages were those from King George, Queen Mary, the Duke of Gloucester and the Prince of Wales.

Princess Elizabeth was informed that she had a new baby sister when she awoke. The Princess was excited by the news. She was told that she could visit the infant later today.

The new Princess follows Princess Elizabeth in line of succession to the throne.

Water Green and Near White Are Newport Favorites

New York.—(UP)—After careful consideration of the evening gowns worn at Newport this season, one discovers a tacit agreement among the fashionable women in favoring less formal styles at the Casino theatre, than at dances.

At the theatre, flowered chiffon frocks, with capes and boleros and skirts with long even hems, are worn while at formal dances flat crepe is the favored fabric, in monotone, with white the outstanding choice. "Simple" styles highlighted.

As the season progresses, and all the estates are occupied, with big dinner parties each night and dance each week, white increases its prestige. Black also retains its favor, especially in lace.

Following white, come watergreen, pale blue and pale pink, at the theatre and at dances. Brown, although not numerically important, is represented in a few smart examples at each social event, generally in lace or net.

Crepe satin is more in evidence than earlier in the season, and lends itself to simple princess lines. A few smart women now approve panne velvet evening gowns, also fashioned along princess lines. Frocks of lace or net often have matching jackets.

In many instances a note of color contrast is introduced by means of three to which her bachelor uncle the Prince of Wales, is heir. Had a son been born he would have taken precedence over Princess Elizabeth.

It was about midnight when an automobile bearing J. R. Clynes, the Home Secretary, drove up to the locked gates of Glamis Castle. The presence of the Home Secretary at the birth of a possible heir to the throne has been required by law since the time of James II.

There was a long wait for a group of villagers outside the gates who kept their sleepy town awake far after the usual close of the activity at 9 P. M. Although the Princess was born at 9:16 P. M., the official announcement was not made until 11:14 P. M.

Our hostess received a rising vote of thanks as much of the success of the picnic was due to her.

May we expect an increase in the percentage of attendance now that the vacation season is so nearly over?

The third Thursday evening in September is the date for a social in the church parlors.

In a few days she will doubtless leave Dixon accompanied by her nurse and they will spend the winter at Warren, Ohio, with her son and family. Music has charms to cheer and comfort whether in a home or in nature; and we trust while she is with Prof. Lowrey her health will improve. Messages were sent by her nurse to Mrs. Jennie Lowrey, and the hymn "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" was sung by the class with piano accompaniment.

Later in the afternoon refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

fabric flowers. Three green flowers are posed in a vertical row at the back of a white flat crepe evening gown. A cluster of yellow fabric flowers is posed at one hip of a pale green chiffon frock. And a large pink chiffon flower is posed at the point of the deep V back décolletage of a velvet chiffon costume. Hems often touch the floor at the back.

Although the back décolletage is still pronounced, and often extreme, a more modified form than hitherto is now preferred in front. The U registers in front with a choice of U or V at back, with comparatively less square. Draped lines often appear at back and reverse treatments.

Short wraps, of the paletot type, register at all smart gatherings, in sheer velvet or velveteen. Black is favored with white or colored frocks, but colored wraps are also sponsored either matching the costume or creating a contrast. Thus, one sees an orange velvet wrap with a pale green satin frock. A few taffeta wraps are seen also.

Only a few coats of sequins have been observed. With a pale blue chiffon frock the Countess Szechenyi wears a matching packet covered with tiny mirror-sequins.

Sunshine S. S. Class Was Entertained

Mrs. Cora Spielman delightedly entertained the Sunshine Class Thursday evening at her home, 706 Forest Avenue, which is an ideal place for a picnic with its gradual slope to the street and the green grass for a carpet. The view would be pleasing to an artist, especially the far away look at the west front of the house.

On the spacious veranda was a long table heavily laden with a large variety of food to tempt the appetite. When every chair surrounding the table was taken it was noticed that others were standing and an extra table was provided for them.

An invalid member, Mrs. Martha Shippert, was at one end of the long table near the smaller one, and she was asked by the president to say Grace, to which she responded.

The social committee chairman was missed and she has our sincere sympathy.

The faithful treasurer read an encouraging report.

NEW YORK-PARIS FASHIONS

ANY one would naturally think that lace for formal wear had just about run its course, but instead, it promises to be of more importance than ever this fall. Already patterns of last season look old for new rayon laces have a crisp, patterned in small designs with an absence of corded outlines. They appear heavy, but in reality are as sheer and supple as chiffon, and may be treated in the same manner. Softened outlines, indicating a more youthful silhouette, are the delightful features of the black crepe gown illustrated. The double ruffle about the neckline, and forming a jabot, shows a new treatment that will bear watching in the future, for many couturiers have considered capes and capelets are doomed to go. The frill continues into a peplum flounce at the hipline, and a narrow border of net finishes the edges and the bottom of the full, ankle-length skirt.

There is no doubt about the continued popularity of black both for this season and next, and at the present moment, pastel colored accessories such as shoes, bags, and jewelry, are worn to vary the general appearance of a dark costume.

After the breakfast and congratulations the newlyweds left on a wedding trip by motor, their destination unknown. The bride's traveling costume is a blue wool crepe, with hat and accessories harmonizing.

On their return from their trip Mr. Glikkema will leave for Aurora where they will make their home, and Mrs. Glikkema will join him in a very short time. Mr. Glikkema who has hosts of friends in Morrison and who has made many in Dixon by his cheerful and genial manner, is a truck salesman for the International Harvester Co. His headquarters are now in Aurora. Mrs. Glikkema is a Dixon girl, and she has lived here all her life. She is a musician and has a beautiful voice, and has given pleasure to many countless times in her appearances before the public in Dixon. She has a charming and gracious personality and will make friends wherever she goes. Her many friends here regret her departure from Dixon.

Out of town relatives in attendance at the wedding this morning were Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Glikkema, parents of the bridegroom; John Glikkema, his brother, from Pittsburgh, Pa.; Miss Ann Glikkema, a sister of Hubert Woods; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pearce, brother and wife of the bride, of Chicago; and another brother, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pearce of Galesburg.

One day he went out between the huge open gates alone, attempted to cross the street and was killed; his first attempt at caring for himself in traffic and his last. He was not "street-educated."

Now we see children of every age from 4 years up crossing streets safely on the way to school. But these younger children have any or all of several things in their favor, or should have, before they have been trusted to the emergencies of traffic.

They have been brought up from babyhood near or on busy thoroughfares, and have had daily warnings and training—even perhaps a few narrow escapes—to fix in their minds that wariness is necessary to safe walking. They know what automobiles can do, they know when to stop and wait, when to watch around corners and behind them. Some youngsters of 4 are old in automobile experience.

Or they have made the same trip with older children day after day, or with a grown person, for enough weeks to get the necessary street-education.

Police Help
Or they cross at hours when the travel is negligible and under the careful eye of a policeman who comes to the curb and conducts the tot safely over.

Only under all of these conditions would I let a 4-year-old go to kindergarten alone. A sheltered little boy who has none of these advantages has no more chance alone on dangerous streets than he would have on a main-line railroad.

Children of 4 are just beginning to establish themselves as entities in the big world. Their judgments and reactions are not fixed like those of older children. Even children of 6 are not thoroughly established in these things sometimes.

My advice is to send the child with an older and trusted companion, or in a group with a grown person in charge. When he becomes street-educated by actual experience, not mere warning, I might consider sending him alone. But not until then.

OUR ENEMIES IN PEACE.

We have talked preparedness for a long time. Now we are realizing its need. Not only in war in which life is taken, as we have commonly thought of it, but in a field that is distinctly more practical and humanitarian.

Movable water tanks, which have been placed in commission at army posts in the Fifth Corps Area, were ordered used for hauling water for livestock in the nearby drought-stricken areas in Ohio.

When winds refuse to blow up a cooling shower . . . when the blue-green waters of the ponds under deep trees turn to muddy brown and the leaves of their shelter wither . . . when the troughs from which they drink no longer have a refreshing flood of cold water, livestock suffer more cruelly than if a marauding army had plumed across the fields.

We are discovering that it is as important to keep prepared in time of peace as in time of war. Not all of our enemies are wearing helmets and carrying bayonets. We have the elements and pestilences to combat. They are distinctly more deadly.

Why not marshal our men and resources and be prepared to make on these enemies when the time comes? They will conquer it in the end if we don't. The government is justified in keeping a reserve of men and supplies ready for such combat as surely as it is in sending the marines to protect our citizens and their property in foreign lands.

Instruments of warfare have proved their use more than once in time of peace. America has gone to battle very often when the enemy wasn't an army that advanced under another flag.

Down in Panama, the cleaning up of the swamps abolished disease. It took the maneuvers of an army, the skill of generalship, the bravery and daring of a gallant soldiery to combat that fever pestilence. But it was done.

If we are going to be happy in time of peace it begins to look as though we must prepare for war. For some strange reason we hesitate to make ready to meet an invader that isn't human. We will prepare for war, though. We could avoid this roundabout method of achieving our end if we would face the dangers of peace as readily as we do those of war.

COLOR IN THE NEWS.

There's a nerve-tingling thrill in the news that has been filtering out of northern India recently, like that in one of Kipling's master romances of adventure.

For the wild Pathan hillmen of the Afghan frontier country, those historic free-hooters who have plied their trade around Khyber Pass for centuries, are on the warpath again. The current unrest in India and the prospects of loot have encouraged them to attack the city of Peshawar, the last British outpost in northwestern India. Several times they have been beaten off by British troops and several times they have returned. Recently, British airplanes have followed them into their native hills and bombed them from the skies.

The semi-savage Pathans are undoubtedly the most ferocious and blood-thirsty fighters on the globe. The battle with a fanatical fury, bred of their Moslem belief that the warrior who dies by the sword is assured of a place in Allah's voluptuous paradise.

Their life and mode of living has been little changed since the legions of Alexander the Great poured through the Khyber into India 2500 years ago. Civilization has not touched these wild children of the hills except to provide them with guns instead of spears or swords, as more efficient means of committing murder.

In this age, most of the news that comes across the telegraph wires is drab with the world's modern, even-tempered life and its progress in that direction. But occasionally from some far-off corner of the globe there comes a flashing bit of color, full of the thrills of romance and buried deep in the background of the world's remote and interesting past.

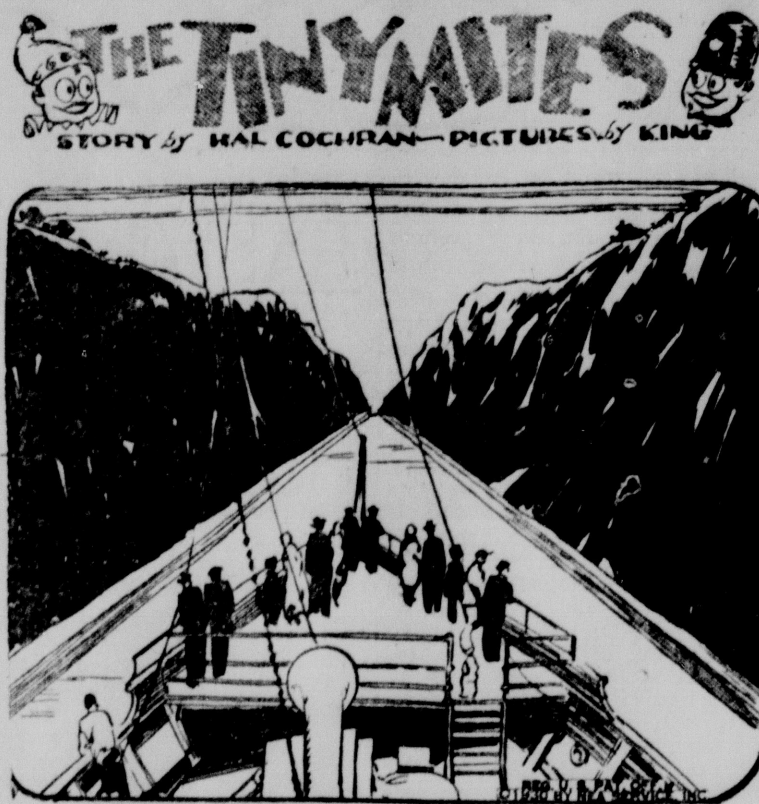

Such is the news from the British outposts in the Khyber hill country today. It is equally as colorful and as interesting as a Kipling novel and it gives us an added thrill when we realize that we are reading fact instead of fiction.

Cal Coolidge writes that the reigning party was ousted in Canada because of a business depression. Of course he doesn't go so far as to name what effect the same cause might have on the present administration here.

"Nothing so educates us as a shock," says Will Durant. This will be sort of flattering to those who have been splashed by jocosely bathers as the beach this summer.

Lightning, a news item says, knocked the rubber heels off both shoes worn by a Georgia man. And we thought all the time that they absorbed shocks.

Once there was a columnist who read about the Communist investigation and resisted saying something about Reds feeling blue.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

They left the Market Gate behind and started out to try to find some other sights of interest. And it didn't take them long. A small car took them to a port and Scoutly shouted "This is sport. Just look at all the boats tied up. The ropes must be real strong."

Each place to moor a boat was filled, and it was quite a sight. It thrilled the happy group of Tynmites. They scampered down the docks. Said Scoutly, "Gee, it's much too far to reach the end from where we are. Why, I can see big boats lined up for blocks and blocks and blocks."

The Travel Man's face spread in smiles. Said he, "Why walk for miles and miles when everything will be the same up there as it is here? I see a yacht moored right nearby. Please come with me and I will try to fix it so we'll have a ride." The bunch began to cheer.

The yachtsman said, "I'm always glad to give a ride to any lad. So hop aboard now, all of you, and we'll steam on our way. The big Corinth Canal's nearby. We'll travel right down through it. I am sure that I can make you have a real good time today."

And then, the next thing that they knew, the wondrous yacht was steaming through the long canal. My, what a sight! The cut was five miles long. On either side the banks rose high, and slow but surely, slipped right by. Said Scoutly, "Gee, we travel fast! Your engines must be strong."

The yachtsman said, "With this we're thrilled. It took about twelve years to build. 'Twas cut out of the solid earth and cost a fortune, too. The water's twenty-six feet deep. Just think how much it takes to keep the big canal filled up. From two large gulfs it rushes through."

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

PERRY'S BIRTH

On Aug. 23, 1785, Oliver Hazard Perry, noted American naval officer, whose celebrated victory on Lake Erie is regarded one of the most heroic episodes of the War of 1812, was born at South Kingston, R. I.

Entering the navy at the age of 14, he succeeded in building and manning a squadron of nine vessels. He sailed then against the British fleet, comprising six larger and stronger ships. The English so hotly attacked the Lawrence, Perry's flagship, that out of 101 men on it only 18 escaped injury. At this juncture Perry left the Lawrence and was rowed to the Niagara in a small boat.

Resuming the conflict, he gained a brilliant victory, taking all the British ships. He sent the following dispatch announcing the result: "We have met the enemy and they are ours. Two ships, two brigs, one schooner and one sloop." For this service Congress gave Perry a gold medal.

TRACK RECORD ENDANGERED AT AMBOY FRIDAY

Tiger Bill Was Close To Equalling It In 2:12 Pace Event

Friday saw another record crowd in attendance at the Lee county fair at Amboy both in the afternoon and the evening performances. The record for the track was again in danger in the 2:12 pacing class when Tiger Bill paced the mile in 2:10 flat. Some of the clockers are said to have caught the time under this figure, but the official timer's mark as announced prevailed. The record for the track in the pacing class in 2:09 1/2 and has stood for twelve seasons.

Today concluded the annual Lee county fair and a fine program of automobile races was scheduled to close one of the most successful seasons in the history of the Lee county fair association. The result of yesterday afternoon's racing card was as follows:

2:12 Pace

In the final heat of the trotting race Guy Time and Total staged as fine a race for first honors as has ever been witnessed on the Amboy track. The first quarter mile was trotted in 31 seconds, the half in 1:04 but the two aspirants appeared to tire on the final half mile.

The two running races which concluded the afternoon's performance on the track for the season resulted as follows:
Three-quarter mile run—Flo Direct, Thomas Bros. Quincy (Thomas), first; Saloon S. Meador, Rock Island (South), second; Sanborn, B. Fletcher, Morrison (Foreman), third; Time 1:16. Kitty Hathaway, Mary Ruth, Jubel Eddy, Dolly Dampie, Papa Blink, Richard Jr., Raggy O'Lynd and Col. Hector, also ran.

One mile run—Red Squaw, Thomas Bros. Quincy (Thomas), first; Oblige, S. Barton, Beloit (Everett), second; Malala, S. Jones, Knox-ville (Roe), third; Mary Ruth, B. Lafferty, Maquon (Frye), fourth. Time of the mile 1:46. Mighty, Bob-by Pine and Ringing also ran.

An improvised barrier aided materially in starting the jumpers in the mile run.
Secretary Paul F. Boyd of the Whiteside county fair was present at yesterday afternoon's racing program announcing the opening of the annual speed program at Morrison on Labor day and continuing through Friday. Col. Harry Harrington, who completed a most successful week at the Amboy track will start the horses at Morrison.

Baseball Gossip

Chicago, Aug. 23—(UP)—The Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants at square at the half way mark of their all-important four game series, met today in another of their battles for the leadership of the National League.

The Cubs increased their lead to three full games when they pounded three New York pitchers for a 12 to 4 victory yesterday. That atoned, in part at least, for their 13 to 6 defeat of the previous day.

The defeat blasted the Giants' hopes of ending the present tie series in first place, as victories both today and Sunday would not boost them into the lead. Standings of the leaders today:

Yesterday's game, played before an overflow crowd of 43,000, including 17,500 women admitted on Ladies Day passes, was a complete reversal of Wednesday's contest. It was the Cubs who slugged fiercely and played errorless ball instead of the Giants.

Opening up with singles by Blair, English, Cuyler and Wilson, the Cubs scored five runs in the first inning. Pruett relieved Donohue and gave the leaders two walks and another single before Blair, up for the second time, struck out.

Lundstrom's home run in the first inning gave the Giants their initial run, and they scored again in the second and twice in the eighth. A second attack gave the Cubs five more runs in the eighth, after they had Charlie Root went the full route for the Cubs, yielding 10 scattered hits while his mates clouted Donohue, Pruett and Parmelee for 12 safe blows. Four costly errors were charged against the Giants.

Acting Manager Dave Bancroft planned to depend on Carl Hubbell today and Pat Malone was slated to start on the mound for the Cubs.

BY HUGH R. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer):
The struggle for first place in the National League between the champion Chicago Cubs and the aspiring New York Giants is back where it started, but the Cubs cannot lose the lead in the current series.

Chicago squared the series with a 12 to 4 triumph yesterday. The defeat left the Giants three games behind the leaders with only two more to play in Chicago.

Pete Donohue started to pitch against Charlie Root. The first four men singled and Donohue gave way to Hub Pruett, who checked the storm after five men had crossed the plate. Pruett later gave way for a pinch hitter, Roy Parmelee assumed the pitching duties and was the victim of another five run Cub rally, which reached its climax when Gabby Hartnett clouted his 27th home run of the year with the bases full in the eighth. Root fanned six Giants.

So far as second place was concerned, the defeat cost the Giants nothing. For the Brooklyn Robins took their fifth straight defeat from the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 1, and dropped to 4 1/2 games behind first place and only 3 1/2 ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals.

St. Louis gained a game by coming from behind to beat the Phillies, 10 to 8, after giving away a five run lead. Collecting 15 hits off four pitchers, the Cards finally won through a three run rally in the eighth inning. Pittsburgh continued to improve its position at the end of the second division, by winning its fourth straight game, with a 10 to 3 victory over the Boston Braves.

The American League games produced no gains or losses among the leaders as the holders of the first three places in the standing were defeated. But it brought the champion Philadelphia Athletics one game nearer the end of the season without reducing their 8 1/2 game lead.

The Athletics took a 7 to 1 trouncing from the Detroit Tigers but at the same time, the St. Louis Browns took a ten inning decision over Washington by a 4 to 3 count and the Cleveland Indians ran their string of victories to seven by defeating the New York Yankees, 5 to 4.

Bump Hadley had a shutout victory over St. Louis in hand until the ninth inning when a sudden weakening gave the Browns three runs and a tie. They scored again off Ad Liska in the tenth to win.

The Chicago White Sox continued to hold their virtual tie with St. Louis for sixth place in the standing by taking advantage of a sixth-inning burst of wildness on the part of Danny MacFayden to score four runs and defeat the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 4. Ted Lyons turned in his 18th victory of the season as he held the Red Sox to eight hits.

NEW TALENT IN A. A. U. RANKS TO BE SEEN IN MEET

Added Incentive Is Seen In Competitors From British Empire

By TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Pittsburgh, Aug. 23—(AP)—Their ranks reinforced by 20 new junior champions, the country's track and field elite assembled today for the national senior championships of the Amateur Athletic union.

As an added incentive the leaders were assured of places on the United States team that meets the British Empire's best at Chicago Wednesday night.

A flock of new talent uncovered in the junior title events yesterday, in which five meet records were broken, with the established stars such as Eddie Tolan, George Simpson, Cy Leland, Claude Bracey, Hector Dyer and Russell Sweet in the 100 yard dash; Steve Anderson and Lee Sementan in the hurdles; Tommy Warne, and Fred Sturdy in the pole vault; and Leo and George Lemond, Ray Conger and Rufus Kizer in the mile.

Turning in a 9.7 performance for a new junior record in the century yesterday, Ralph Metcalfe, young Chicago Negro, served notice that the Tolans and Simpsons will have to travel to beat him.

Among the other brilliant youngsters who expected to try for senior laurels as well were four more record-breakers—Johnny Morris of Lafayette, La., high hurdler with a winning mark of 14.7 yesterday; Ray Sears of Mattoon, Ill., winner of the mile in 4:21.5; Harry Carter, first in the two mile steeplechase in 10:59.8; and Ed Flanagan of the Boston A. A., who tossed the hammer 162 feet, 5 inches.

Of these five performances the first three were better than the winning marks in last year's senior competition and as a result these youngsters appeared to have excellent chances today.

In addition to the battle for individual titles and places on the international team, the athletes today expected a keep fight for the team honors now held by the Olympic club of San Francisco. This powerful body of athletes, which dethroned the defending junior champions, the Denver A. C., yesterday, expected its

The summer season closes September 1.

Chicago—(AP)—Joe Lintzenick, captain of the St. Louis University 1928 and 1929 football teams, and Lyle Drury, from the same school, have been signed by the Chicago Bears of the National Professional Football League. Lintzenick is a fullback, and Drury an end.

Chicago—(AP)—Hack Wilson is becoming restless over the National League home run situation.

Since the Cub outfielder tied the league record of 43 homers last Tuesday, twelve circuit swats have been made in Wrigley Field—but he has been the author of none. He is especially anxious to set a new mark at the expense of his one-time employer, the New York club. Rogers Hornsby, Zack Taylor, Perce Malone and George Kelly, other Cub ex-Giants, are pulling for Wilson.

Newport, R. I.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden, seeking for first leg of the new Casino Cup, today meets William Allison of Texas, in the finals of the Newport Invitation tennis tournament. Tilden retired the old trophy last year.

The national champion gained the championship round by default, his doubles mate, Frank Hunter, sacrificed his chances in the singles to help him for the doubles semi-finals in which he and Tilden defeated Jack Tidball and Gerald Barosh, California youngsters. They met Wilbur Coen of Kansas City and Harrison Coggeshall of Des Moines, in the championship round today.

Vancouver, B. C.—(AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver welterweight, who will meet Al Singer, world's lightweight champion, at the Yankee Stadium, New York, Sept. 11, said today he would condition himself for the bout in a rolling gymnasium enroute east.

When the western fighter leaves Monday night for New York he will travel in an especially equipped gymnasium car in which McLarnin will live and go through his daily training.

A break in the journey will be made at Chicago. McLarnin and his manager, "Pop" Foster, will reach New York Sept. 9, two days before the bout.

Los Angeles—(AP)—Frankie Genaro, recognized by the National Boxing Association as flyweight champion, has signed to meet Newsboy Brown of Los Angeles in a ten round overweight match at the Olympic Auditorium here Sept. 9. Brown last Tuesday gave Midget Wolgast, recognized in New York and Pennsylvania as the flyweight champion, a decisive 10 round beating.

The overnight list contained seventeen names and twelve were expected to accept the issue.

A three-year-old event, the Port Dearborn Handicap with $5,000 added, had an overnight entry of eight horses.

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—America's premier jockey, Earl Sande, and Reville Boy, winner of the American Derby at Washington Park at odds of 50 to 1, was the favorite combination today in the $3,000 added Governor's Derby, the big event of the Illinois State Fair racing program.

Sande came to Springfield yesterday by airplane from New York to ride the fractious three-year-old which last June surprised by winning a $50,000 feature for his owner, Charles Best, the former Memphis, Tenn., grocery proprietor.

Against the Earl and his mount were arrayed Billy Champ, Jean Lafitte, Fetish, Blind Love, Lady Sting, Stop Gap, Candy Rose, Marie Stevens and King Pin.

GENE SARAZEN HOLDS LEAD IN WESTERN OPEN

Brilliant 63, Three Under Par Gives Him A Two-Stroke Lead

BY PAUL MICKELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Indianwood Club, Orion, Mich., Aug. 23—(AP)—Gene Sarazen today held a two stroke mortgage on one of the few important golf crowns to escape his grasp—the Western Open championship.

As the final half of the 72 hole drive for the title opened over Indianwood Club Course, Sarazen was seated in the whip seat away from a closely bunched field with a par-shattering total of 142 strokes.

A brilliant 63, three under par, on the second 18 hole journey hailed the former National Open champion and one of the greatest money players of the game, ahead of the pack yesterday. He bagged five birdies and except for a bad tee shot to a trap and a three putt green would have fractured the course record of 67.

Two strokes behind Sarazen today were Harry Hampton, veteran Scot from Chicago who topped the field at the end of the first round with a 69 and who took a 75 yesterday.

Chris Brinke, Detroit amateur who flashed around in 67 strokes, yesterday; Emerick Koes, Detroit professional; Bob Shave of Marion, Ohio, and Al Watrous of Detroit, who hasn't been in golfdom's lime-light since he almost won the British open title four years ago.

One thing was almost certain, and that was that Tommy Armour has been deposed as champion. The Black Sox, trailed Sarazen by 11 strokes, principally because of a bad putting epidemic, and was considered out of the tussle.

Other leaders as the final drive opened today were: John Watson, South Bend, Ind., Laurie Ayton, Evanston, Ill., who had 145's; Shute and Abe Espinosa, who had 146's; Horton Smith, Mehlhorn, Ed Dudley of Wilmington, N. C., and Charles Kocsis of Detroit, Michigan State amateur champion, with 147 totals each; Al Espinosa, Emmet French and Taty Manosa of New York, who had tallies of 148.

Walter Hagen still had a chance although he stood seven shots away from Sarazen with 149 strokes.

Johnny Farrell, former national open champion, appeared out of the game and a 151 total. Seventy three running, however, with a shaky with scores ranging from Sarazen's low to 156, qualified for today's final rounds.

Betty Nuthall Looks Like Tennis Winner

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 23—(AP)—England has a representative in the final round of the American women's national tennis championship today for the fourth time in six years with no Helen Wills to beat for the title.

Betty Nuthall, blonde and blue eyed youngster from Great Britain, marched into the finals yesterday with victory over Marjorie Morril of Dedham, Mass., 6-8, 6-4, 6-2. Betts quished without a fight by Helen Wills Moody stands Mrs. Anna Harper of San Francisco, No. 5 in the America ranking Mrs. Harper brushed aside Baroness Maude Rosinbaum Levi of Italy, 6-2, 6-3, but was decidedly an under-dog in her final round match with Miss Nuthall today.

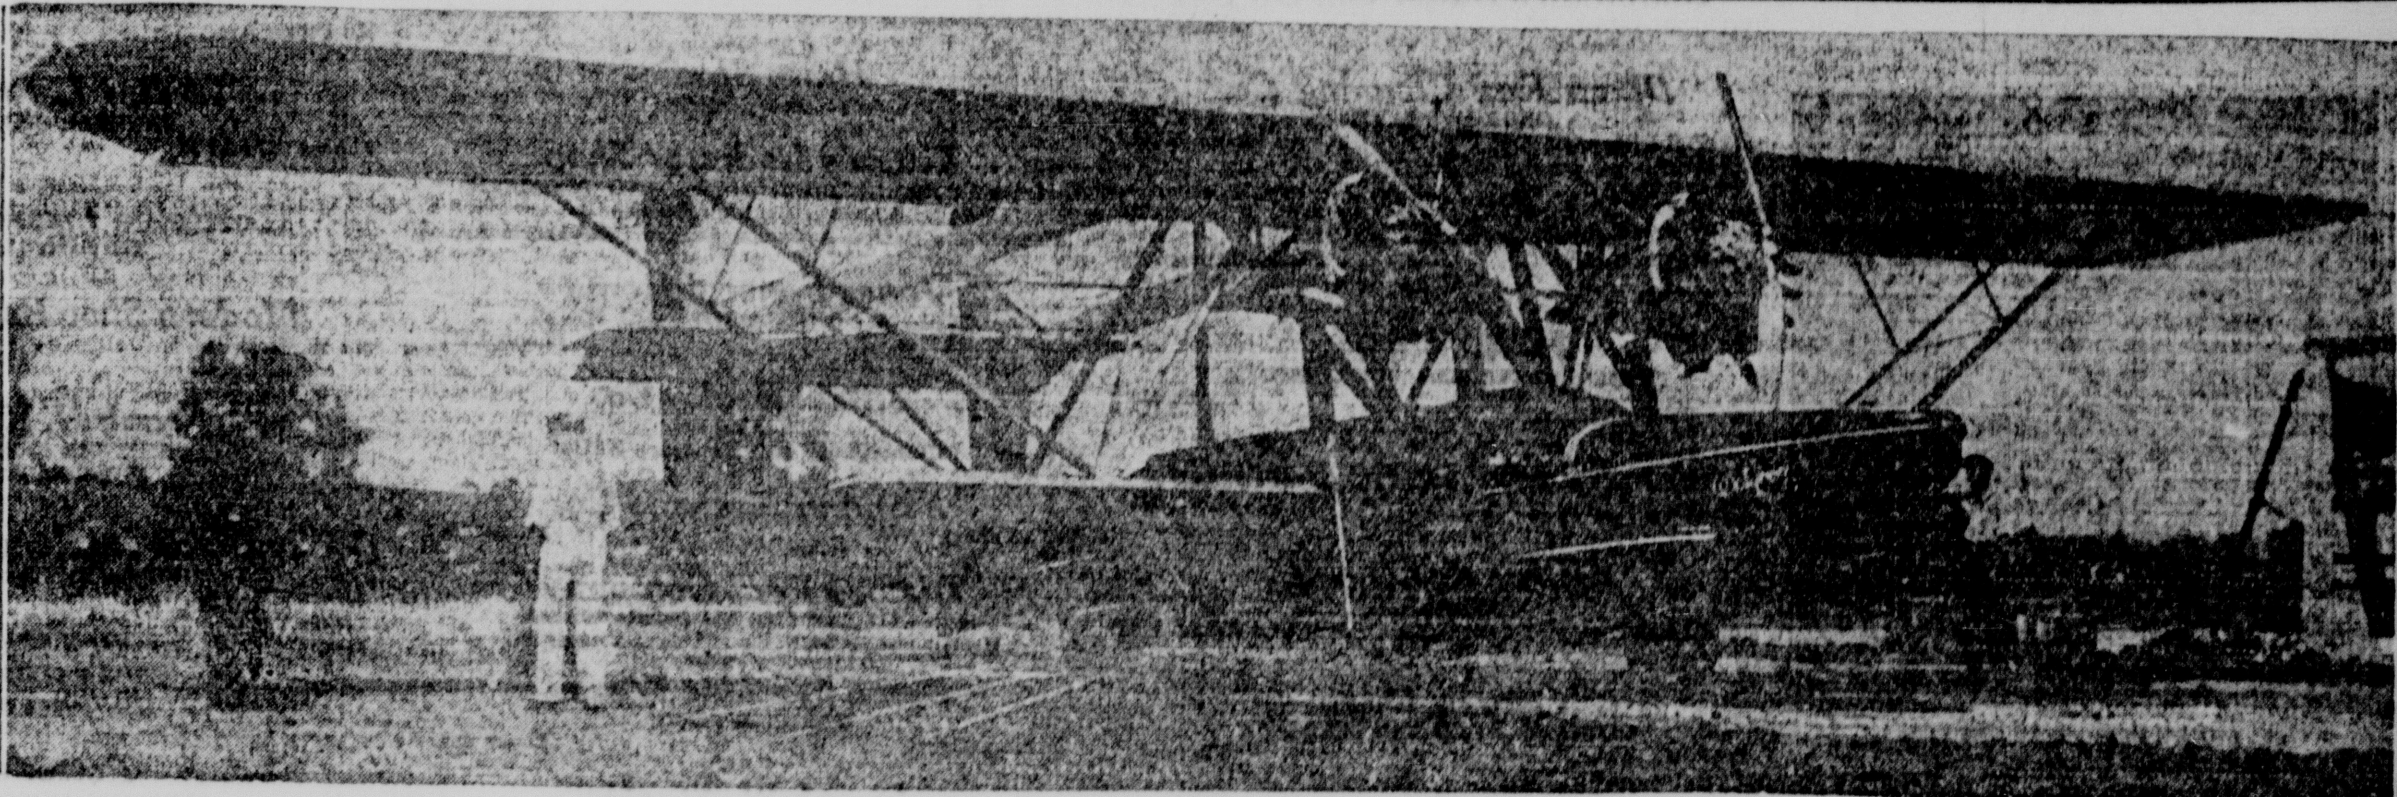

Betty battled her way through the field in 1927 only to fall before the play of the then Helen Wills, just as Kitty McKane had in 1925 and as Mrs. Phoebe Watson did last year. Both singles finalists also reached the final round in doubles. Miss Nuthall and Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass., eliminated Miss Morrill and Penelope Anderson of Richmond, Va., 6-2, 6-4, while Mrs. Harper and Edith Cross of San Francisco, defeated Marjorie Gladman of Santa Monica, and Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Anna, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

Today's Cup Trials Stopped By Weather
BY SIDNEY B. WHIPPLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Newport, R. I., Aug. 23—(UP)—A strong blow from the north, accompanied by gusts of rain, held the America's cup contenders in Newport Harbor today and the scheduled 30 mile race was called off by the committee.

While the big yachts would easily have weathered the blow, the committee is satisfied with their accomplishments in heavy weather and wants to learn what they will do in light airs.

Shamrock will leave her berth Monday for her first trial in American waters.

Lifeguards at Seaside, Ore., use an airplane in rescue work. The craft carries a torpedo to which is fastened a long rope attached to a life preserver. The crew drops the preserver to persons in distress, and the torpedo carries the line to shore, the method being quicker than boat rescue.

THE WRITING IN THE SAND

 He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her. —John 8:7b.

Just recently a bloodthirsty mob foaming at the mouth gathered before a jail that harbored three men who had attacked an innocent girl. The girl was white, the offenders colored. The mob took the law into their own hands. The guilty ones were hanged by violence. The three men had committed adultery, the mob homicide. Both sinned against Scriptures. Thou shalt not commit adultery; thou shalt not kill. Let the law take care of its offenders.

The scribes and Pharisees had caught a woman in adultery, in the very act. Her name is not mentioned but she was a harlot. The scribes and Pharisees were exultant over their prey. They were highly jubilant because they had the "goods" on the helpless woman and hoped to hear words from the compassionate Jesus so that they might accuse and condemn Him for not upholding the law of Moses. The law of Moses commanded to stone to death the adulteress. What will Jesus, who was ushering in a new dispensation, say? If He will not condemn her then they will condemn Him. "What then sayest Thou of her?" inquired the scribes and Pharisees. Jesus stooped down and with His finger wrote on the ground. Then facing them He said: "He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her." Again He stooped down and with His finger wrote on the ground. One by one the scribes and Pharisees disappeared conscience stricken until none were left to accuse the woman. Jesus said unto her: "Woman, where are they? did no man condemn thee? And she said: "No man, Lord." And Jesus said: "Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way, from henceforth sin no more."

What stand do you take toward sin? Jesus certainly condemned sin but He has forgiveness for the repentant sinner. She was a lost soul until she found her Savior. In that moment she became converted. She turned her back upon sin and her awful past and followed the teachings of Jesus. The scribes and Pharisees thought they had no sin and therefore remained under the wrath of God. If we say: "we have no sin, we deceive ourselves but He has forgiveness for the repentant sinner. She was a lost soul until she found her Savior. In that moment she became converted. She turned her back upon sin and her awful past and followed the teachings of Jesus. The scribes and Pharisees thought they had no sin and therefore remained under the wrath of God. If we say: "we have no sin, we deceive ourselves

And all through the mountains thundering
And up from the rocky steep
There arose a glad cry to the gate of heav'n,
"Rejoice! I have found My sheep!"
And the angels echoed around the throne,
"Rejoice, for the Lord brings back His own!"

Three-in-One Dance

What to do with your girl friend's girl friend at a dance? That's a problem that has barked the best masculine minds. Now it has been solved. For two girls can be danced with as easily as one in the new dance called the Trio, shown above. Dorothy, Oscar and Mildred Duryea (left to right) demonstrated the intricate steps at the annual convention of the Dancing Masters of America in New York.

A basket picnic is planned for noon.
Free coffee, sugar and cream will be purchased on the grounds.

Glenn Wright, famous national plowing champion, will supervise the plowing match to be held on the Earl Cleveland farm, directly across the road from the picnic grounds.
Vaughn's Grove, South Main street.
Three big silver cups will be awarded. K. Wehner, high school agriculture teacher, will assist Mr. Wright.

ERRORGRAMS

Try to Scramble

ABITHULA

Time and again

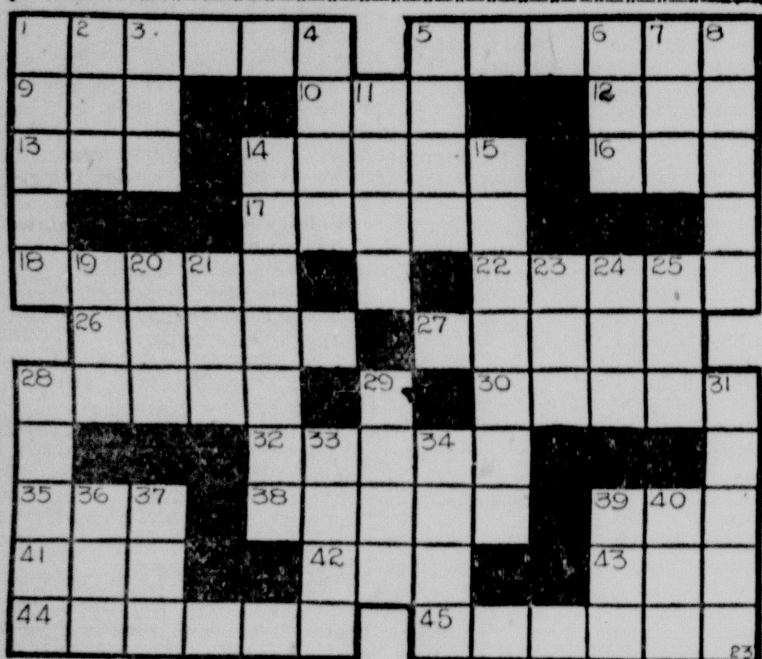

Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Monday we'll explain the mistakes and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

FRIDAY'S CORRECTIONS

Sea of Beer—But No One's Afloat

Beer, beer everywhere, but not a drop to drink. That's the predicament in which spectators found themselves when prohibition agents destroyed eight 2000-gallon vats and 46 barrels filled to the brim with real lager at a Chicago brewery said to be owned by Bugs Moran, gang chieftain. Note the foaming liquid gushing from the holes.

PERUVIAN CITY IS CAPTURED BY REBELS THIS A. M.

No Blood Shed According To Reports Of The Government

Lima, Peru, Aug. 23.—UP—An official communiqué today announced a revolutionary uprising of troops of the garrison at Arequipa.

The rebels captured the government authorities at Arequipa and took possession of the city, which is the second largest in Peru.

The government announced that it expected to restore order at Arequipa and issued a decree closing the Port of Mollendo to all merchant ships. All commercial fields at Arequipa and in the vicinity of the captured city also were closed.

The announcement said Commandant Sanchez had instigated the uprising. He was said to have told the troops that the government would not pay them.

Commandant - General Leopoldo Arias of Arequipa, and Prefect Federico Fernandez were captured by the forces under direction of Sanchez Cerro.

Arequipa, long a rival city of Lima, is inland on the railroad line in southern Peru. Mollendo is its port of entry. Arequipa, capital of the department of the same name, has a population of more than 35,000 and is the center of a large trade in wool and mining products. It also is located in a strategic position high on a plain some 50 miles from the coast.

The government announced that there was to be bloodshed when the rebels took possession of the city.
